Journals stating that they follow the ICMJE Recommendations

The following is a list of journals whose editors or publishers have contacted the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors (ICMJE) to request listing as a journal that says it follows the ICMJE's Recommendations for the Conduct, Reporting, Editing and Publication of Scholarly Work in Medical Journals. Although these journals are not "members" of the ICMJE itself, nor does their inclusion indicate "certification" by the ICMJE, maintenance of such a list may help to promote improvements in the quality of medical science and its reporting by indicating the standards many editors indicate they work to uphold.

The ICMJE cannot verify the completeness or accuracy of this list.

- There may be some journals that follow the ICMJE recommendations, but have never requested listing.
- There may be some listed journals that do not follow all of the many recommendations and policies in the document.

Editors whose journals have requested inclusion on this list by indicating that they follow the ICMJE Recommendations must be mindful of their responsibility to do so. Although we believe that most editors take this responsibility seriously and strive to achieve high standards, a growing number of entities advertise themselves as scholarly, peer-review medical journals yet do not function as such ("predatory" or "pseudo-journals"). Such journals may request listing here merely to gain the appearance of legitimacy. Unfortunately there remains no validated mechanism to reliably define or identify such journals and we therefore emphasize the need to evaluate each journal's practices carefully (www.icmje.org/recommendations/browse/roles-and-responsibilities/responsibilities-in-the-submission-and-peer-review-process.html). Authors and others with questions about the processes or policies of a specific journal should consult that journal directly.

Journals listed or considering listing should understand that the ICMJE periodically updates the Recommendations for the Conduct, Reporting, Editing and Publication of Scholarly Work in Medical Journals. They should sign-up to receive notification of changes to the Recommendations (<http://icmje.org/recommendations/subscribe-to-changes/>).

Journal's wishing to be removed from this list, should contact us.

Authors and others with questions about the processes or policies of a specific journal should consult that journal directly.
